

THE THIRD PARTY AND THE OLD ONES.

THEIR MERITS AND DEMERITS
DISCUSSED BY LIBERTY ACADEMY BOYS.

AN ELOQUENT DISCOURSE.

A Good Report of What Was Done at the Interesting Closing of the Liberty Academy.

(Special Cor. STATE CHRON. CLE.)

LIBERTY, N. C., June 6.—The closing exercises of Liberty Academy were conducted with much interest to all present.

Thursday morning, May 28th, was very gloomy indeed to a merry crowd of boys and girls. It rained almost incessantly Thursday, but that did not hinder the programme from being carried out.

About ten o'clock the sun gave one glimmering peep upon the academy and the students and cheer after cheer as a joyful greeting to welcome his much wanted presence that day, but that some faint view gave him enough of the disappointed obstacle and he disappeared for the remainder of the day.

At 10:30 the house was well filled, and the exercises opened with music by the brass band. At 11 o'clock the annual sermon was preached by Rev. W. C. Swain, of Danbury, N. C. His text was a part of Hebrew 6:1. "Let us go on unto perfection."

1. Physical perfection.
2. Mental perfection.
3. Spiritual perfection.

He said, "the hardest thing any one ever did was doing nothing. No matter what position in life we held; doing nothing was the most laborious task to perform; that absolute rest of the human mind was impossible." A touching and eloquent appeal was made to the young men to make their lives moral and Christian. No matter how near they came of touching the coveted goal of mental perfection, their lives were miserable failures without Christian holiness."

He gave Byron as an example who made motive his God and with his pen, bathed in inspiration, portrayed nature more sublimely than any other poet who has ever lived, and yet he died in the talons of torment and in sight of hell, while he might have died in the presence of God."

We must say we have never listened to a more forcible sermon than this one. Mr. Swain is a young man about 28 years old and a member of the Methodist Protestant conference of North Carolina. Long may he live to be an honor to himself and family, to the church and to the cause of Christ. We predict for him a future second home in our State.

A very important exercise of the afternoon exercises was a political discussion. Mr. W. H. Bend opened the contest with an address speech which was very patriotic and pointed. He argued that neither of the old parties had been true to their obligations and that they were not to be relied upon for honesty and good government.

Next came Mr. C. D. Cobb who presented the republicans. He claimed everything as being fatal to the republicans. That the republicans had been made to look with indignation at the mad reckless career of misguided democrats who had done all in their power to overthrow this glorious union. That it was the unenvied lot of liberty and devotion to the republic that had preserved the heart of the republican party.

He made this country what it once hoped to be. He referred to Thos. Jefferson as one of the founders of their party, also that Calhoun and Jefferson Davis were late day advocates of republicanism. While the gentleman seemed quite at home in rhetoric, facts seemed quite foreign to him.

Secretary McFarland, of Louisiana, says that the Alliance in that State will await the action of the Supreme Council. There are a few who favor a Third Party.

President Gardner, of Kentucky, says a majority of the Alliance in that State will support a good independent ticket.

Alva Agee, president of the Ohio Alliance, says the order there thinks it too early to mark out a political career.

President T. W. Force, declares that nine-tenths of the order in that State will vote the Third Party ticket in '92.

"In Illinois," so says Secretary Blood, ninety per cent. of Alliance-men will support the Third Party ticket.

Eighty per cent of the Alliance-men of Michigan will vote a Third Party ticket, so says President Cole.

President McDowell, of Tennessee, says he is opposed to independent political action, believing there is reform in the old parties, yet he says the Third Party movement is growing in his State.

Arkansas is out and out for the People's Party, so says President Davidson. North Dakota is, also, while South Dakota is not so certain.

This is the state of affairs as it seems at present throughout the States from which letters have been received.

Last, but by no means least, came the Democratic speech which was ably delivered by Mr. D. L. Fox, who fairly won the victory and left the bones of his adversaries to whiten and crumble on the battlefield.

At 2:30 p. m. came the literary address by Col. John Staples. It is useless to comment on this distinguished orator as all who have heard him agree that he is equal to any occasion. He is one of the most graceful, eloquent and logical speakers in North Carolina, and his speech was a treat to all present.

At 8 o'clock there was a social gathering in the Academy hall, in which all happily participated for a few hours. Thus ended another year of this flourishing school. The students certainly reflected much credit on Prof. Weatherby and his corps of assistants. Prof. Weatherby is one of the most skilled, energetic and thorough-going educators in North Carolina, and the people of Liberty are justly proud of him. He has been often heard to say he never expected to fail at anything, and, indeed, he has proven this to be true by a successful career of fifteen years in the school room. Indeed, he never has anything but a flourishing school. His brother, Mr. D. M. Weatherly, who has just graduated at the "State Normal College" at Nashville, Tenn., will assist him next term.

FIRE IN LAURINBURG.

Seven Guano Houses and the C. C. Depot Burned to the Ground.

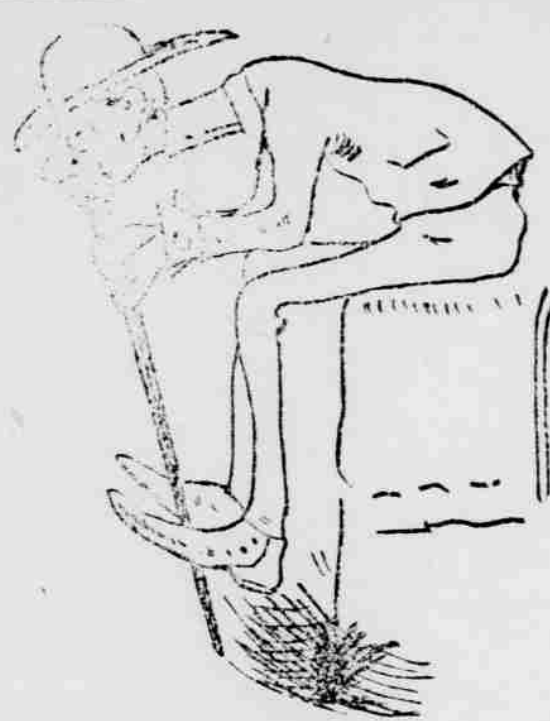

(Special Correspondence State Chronicle.)

LAURINBURG, N. C., June 9.—Another most disastrous fire occurred here at midnight on Saturday night. The loud and rapid ringing of the town bell and sharp screams of excited people told of the destroyer. The citizens worked faithfully but could not subdue the flames until they had destroyed seven guano warehouses and the C. C. railroad depot. Much of the contents were saved but in a damaged condition. The loss was great, falling chiefly upon Messrs. A. M. McKimmon & Co. The railroad loss is covered by insurance but we hear of no other.

It was an incendiary fire, but the motives and actor are yet concealed.

Jackson Springs WATER

New Hotel.

An All-the-year-round Health Resort.

WATER

For Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhoea, Cystitis, Kidney Troubles, Cholera Infantum and Debility.

Balmy Breezes of the Long-leaf Pine and Deep-sand Section for Pulmonary and Asthmatic Troubles.

McPHERSON & THOMPSON,

—PROPRIETORS—

West End, Moore County, N. C.

Running far back beyond the memory of the earliest settlers of Moore County, North Carolina, there has bubbled forth from a solid rock-bed some sparkling springs, the flow of which forms a little rivulet of clear, cold, effervescent water, carrying in its liquid depths many of Nature's remedial and curative qualities.

These have long been known to the neighborhood as

Jackson Springs.

For many years, that the waters of Jackson Springs possessed mineral properties which were powerful remedial and curative agents for indigestion, dyspepsia, cystitis, dropsy, diarrhoea, and, in fact, all debilitating affections, was known only to the few who had located and made their homes in the immediate neighborhood. But so remarkable had been the effects upon those who, after finding their medicinal qualities had subjected themselves to their influences, that their reputation could not be confined to so small a limit, and rapidly throughout Moore and into adjoining counties, went the glad tidings to the afflicted ones.

Visitors from the surrounding country became frequent and numerous, and their stay of longer duration, to the extent that many small cabins were erected, and often whole families would drop in and remain for a week or more; cooking in the open air, sleeping in tents or wagons, and caring for themselves in the old-fashioned camp-meeting style.

More recently the reputation of Jackson Springs Water became so much talked of, that very shortly a party of gentlemen sought for and obtained an option upon the Springs and some 700 acres of long-leaf pine and deep sandy land surrounding it. Samples of the water were taken to our State Agricultural Experiment Station for analysis, the result of which is as follows:

ANALYSIS No. 6,147.

NO. CA. AGRICULTURAL DEP'T, EXPERIMENT STATION.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 3, 1890.

SIR:—The sample of mineral water sent to the Station for analysis, in a demijohn, marked P. M. Wilson, contains an evaporation, per U. S. gallon—

SOLIDS.

Total.....	7.546 "

Your obedient servant,
H. B. BATTLE, [SEAL.]
Director.

To P. M. WILSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

Upon receipt of this analysis the option was closed, and the purchasers have erected near the Springs a new and comfortable hotel, fitted it out anew, and it is now open to the public as

Jackson Springs Hotel.

This new health resort is situated four miles from West End, on the Aberdeen and West End Railroad, about fifteen miles southwest of Southern Pines. The Aberdeen and West End Railroad is a branch from the Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line Road, and is the individual enterprise of Mr. A. F. Page, whose money paid for its entire construction and equipment.

Jackson Springs Hotel is situated in the very heart of what is known as the

Long-Leaf Pine and Deep Sand Section

of North Carolina, and which has been so well termed the great Sanatorium for those suffering from asthmatic and pulmonary diseases. The climate being one of the most delightful in the South, having natural deep sand and drainage, and balmy healing odors of the long-leaf pine, the invalid cannot help but improve from the day of his or her arrival.

The neighborhood is settled by the descendants of that hardy, brawny and hospitable race, the Scotch, whose hearts are ever open to welcome all who come among them.

The value of the Jackson Springs Water as a remedy for and cure of indigestion in all its forms, particularly dyspepsia and diarrhoeal diseases, kidney and bladder troubles, dropsy, cystitis and all debilitating causes is well known.

The healing influences of inhaling the odors of the long-leaf pine and living in and breathing the pure atmosphere of this deep sand drainage is not to be disputed.

We desire to extend to all who are sufferers from these terrible diseases all the benefits which Nature has so bounteously bestowed upon us. To this end we have opened the Jackson Springs Hotel, and invite the public to its hospitality at reasonable rates.

Read carefully the following testimonials from those who have been benefited and cured by the use of the Jackson Springs Water:

KEV. W. S. LACY, D. D., Thinks Its Effects Marvelous.

MESSRS. MCPHERSON & THOMPSON, West End, N. C.:

Dear Sirs—I am very happy to be able to give you my testimony to the excellence of the Jackson Springs Water as a natural remedial agent, indeed a specific, in all forms of dyspepsia, and as a tonic when the digestive powers have been weakened by long debilitating disease, or have been over-taxed and disordered.

In my own case having suffered from a severe attack of cystitis in February and March, 1884, after recovering from a 6-weeks' confinement and much longer illness, early in April with appetite very poor and hard to please, and being much weakened by protracted suffering, I attended a meeting of Presbyterians at Jackson Springs, remaining six days. I drank the water freely and its effects were marvelous. My strength rapidly returned, my appetite was restored, and my improvement was, even for so short a time, very marked, and the effect continued long after my return home.

Mrs. Lacy was a sufferer from dyspepsia in aggravated form for two years, so that she was much enfeebled and confined for five months to her bed. She first used the water bottled, and the result was so satisfactory that as soon as she could bear the journey she was taken to the Springs, remaining three weeks. The water has proven so beneficial in her case that it is a matter of wonder and thankfulness to all her friends. She visited the Springs a second summer with like marked improvement, and it is to her a veritable Bethesda, a pool of healing, a Mecca of health. Whenever jaded or run down, or whenever feeling depression or suffering occasioned by indigestion, a week or a month at Jackson Springs is the potent remedy that answers all demands. Very truly yours,

WM. S. LACY.
The Manse 68 Boush St., Norfolk, Va., May 1, 1891.

As a Last Resort Rev. A. N. Ferguson Used the Jackson Springs Water.

LAURENCE, N. C., March 27, '91.

MESSRS. MCPHERSON & THOMPSON, West End, N. C.:

Dear Sirs—It affords me pleasure to state the value of the Jackson Springs Water as a specific for dyspepsia. Several years ago I became the victim of this disease, which was accompanied by chronic diarrhoea. I tried various remedies but continued to grow worse; for month I was, to all human appearance, on the brink of the grave, reduced to a mere skeleton, weighing only about 70 pounds. My physician as a last resort, advised me to try Jackson Springs Mineral Water. I went, spent the most of July and August at the Springs, resting in the meantime about two weeks from the use of the water. The result was complete restoration, and for years after I had no trouble with dyspepsia whatever. Mine was an extreme case, and during my stay at the Springs my improvement was very gradual, for a time scarcely perceptible, but after leaving I improved very rapidly. From my experience, I have no hesitation in heartily recommending this water to those afflicted with the very common, but much to be dreaded, disease, dyspepsia. In many respects it is, so to speak, the nearest disease the human frame is heir to.

Yours truly,
A. N. FERGUSON.

Dr. K. M. Ferguson's Opinion.

CAMELON, N. C., May 8, 1891.

MESSRS. MCPHERSON & THOMPSON, West End, N. C.:

Gentlemen—I very cheerfully give my testimony to the virtue of Jackson Springs Water. This water contains the qualities which relieve the system exhausted from over-work, derangements of the digestive and assimilative processes, corrects torpidity of the vital organs; and is especially valuable to promote appetite and aid digestion. The location of the Springs is one with exceptional advantages as a health resort, particularly for the treatment of pulmonary phthisis.

K. M. FERGUSON, M. D.

Dr. W. M. Fowlkes and his Patients Benefitted by the Jackson Springs Water.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., May 1, 1891.

MESSRS. MCPHERSON & THOMPSON, West End, N. C.:

Gentlemen—I cheerfully recommend Jackson Springs Water as a valuable remedy for dyspepsia, indigestion, liver troubles, or any of the diseases of the digestive organs. I have been troubled with dyspepsia for a number of years, and have derived more benefit from this water than from any other waters or from all other remedies used for this disease. I have also seen numbers of my own patients and other persons greatly relieved even by a short stay at these Springs.

W. M. FOWLKES, M. D.

Truly Wonderful what Jackson Springs Water Will Do.

[From W. T. Jones, President of Tyson & Jones Buggy Co.]

CARTHAGE, N. C., May 1, 1891.

MESSRS. MCPHERSON & THOMPSON, West End, N. C.:

Gentlemen—It is truly wonderful what the Jackson Springs Water will do. I know of several persons who were so weak as scarcely to be able to walk, who in a short time were restored to robust health. Every year people flock there. After the houses are all filled they camp in tents, and some sleep in wagons and cook and eat in the open air. But now that you have a good hotel there the accommodation will be a blessing to the people. We are eighteen miles from the Springs and I send for the water often. Have just received about ten gallons.

Yours truly,

W. T. JONES.

Presiding Elder Rev. S. D. Adams, Thinks it Saved his Life in 1873 when all Remedies Available had Failed.

CARTHAGE, N. C., May 1, 1891.

MESSRS. MCPHERSON & THOMPSON, West End, N. C.:

Gentlemen—After an acquaintance of more than twenty years with the waters of Jackson Springs, and having thoroughly tested its curative properties in my own case, I do not hesitate to recommend it to those who are suffering with dyspepsia in any of its forms, weak kidneys and kindred diseases, as worthy of a fair trial.

I believe it saved my life in 1873, when all remedies available had failed to give permanent relief. Since then I have been much benefited by its use, and think I am conferring a favor on those who are suffering in that way when I say, "Do as I have done; try it." I think you will be benefited.

For More than Twenty Years I have Advised Patients to go to Jackson Springs.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., May 1, 1891.

MESSRS. MCPHERSON & THOMPSON, West End, N. C.:

Dear Sirs—Jackson Springs Mineral Water possesses virtues in many respects unsurpassed by any water of my knowledge. For more than twenty years I have advised patients suffering with indigestion and certain forms of dyspepsia, unyielding to the usual remedial measures, to go to Jackson Springs. The majority of these cases have been greatly relieved. Teething children, and especially those suffering with diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum, chronic in its character, are generally cured by visiting these Springs.

Being situated on a high point in the long-leaf pine and deep sand section of the State, I should think it a very desirable resort for those suffering with pulmonary diseases.

Please let me know the price of board. I may go to the Springs this summer.

Yours very truly,

J. M. COVINGTON, M. D.

Packed for Shipping.

This valuable water is packed for shipping purposes, in flint bottles, six to the gallon, and two or four dozen bottles to the case. The very strong mineral qualities make this water so effervescent it cannot be packed in large bottles or casks.
